

Newsletter - January/February 2023

We are a bit late with our new Year's newsletter, the reason for this delay being the latest IEECP output: our brand-new website! We imagined it with the goal to ease your navigation, allowing you to scroll by topic or material you are interested in as well as by project. Most project websites disappearing after few years, we are happy that this new version of our website, acting like a knowledge-hub, will ensure research outputs and recommendations will remain available to all.
